

Year 11 November Mock revision pack

Dear Student

Revision is a daunting prospect and we understand that it can be hard to get started and also hard to feel like you are making progress towards something that is still a number of weeks away. Do not fear! This revision pack has been compiled by your teachers to help support you in your independent work over the two week October half term break. If you complete all of the work set by your teachers you will be well on the way to success for the exams, you will also hopefully have set up some good habits in your revision that you will continue up to and through the examination period. You should aim to complete 3 hours per subject plus 3 hours for English Literature, 3 hours for English Language and 5 hours in total of maths. Of course many of you will want to revise more, but it is important that you factor in some time to relax and recuperate before a busy few months.

We've included a copy of the November mock exam timetable, a blank revision schedule for you to fill in with what you will do and when over the October break and then there is a page for each subject with a selection of tasks to complete. Your teachers will be checking that you have completed the tasks and filling in a progress check on your return after easter and completing these tasks will make you feel well prepared and also help teachers to better direct any intervention or support. Your tutor will also be checking whether you have completed the tasks and had the relevant pages signed by your parent/guardian so make sure that you bring this booklet back with you in November.

A digital copy of the booklet and links can be found by using the QR code above.

Good luck with your revision!

Top 10 revision tips for your GCSE exams

1. Draw up a revision timetable. Build in breaks and mix the order of the subjects. Make sure you cover all of your subjects (and the different sub-topics for each subject).
2. Exercise: it helps the brain get more oxygen, which increases productivity whilst reducing tiredness and stress.
3. Don't get distracted: find a quiet space and remove distractions. Don't spend your 'revision' time checking social media; try turning off your phone when you need to focus.
4. Stick to your revision plan: you'll feel better if you do what you've planned. If you miss a session, plan in another session to make up for it.
5. Do active revision. You won't get much out of just reading through your notes. Use the activities provided by your teachers to create resources and to apply your learning.
6. Spice up your revision. Use a bit of colour! Drawing colourful learning maps will help you to memorise facts. What is even more interesting is the fact that colourful notes are easier to memorise than plain black and white ones. Give it a go!
7. Try different ways of memorising material: try writing it out in different ways; use cue cards; create mindmaps and then try re-creating them from memory; stick posters and post-its round your room; use on-line testing programmes; use friends and family (see below).
8. Use your family and friends. Ask people around you to test you on the revision notes/cue cards you've created.
9. Reward yourself. It is not all about the work; you need good breaks too. People who manage to find the right balance between study and leisure are the ones who get the top marks. For instance, go to a cinema with friends after a productive day of revision or treat yourself to something sweet. Work hard, play not-quite-as-hard is the motto here.
10. Think positively: don't panic! Stick to your revision plan, do the activities your teachers have told you to do, follow the advice above and you'll be fine!

1. Reflect on your project so far - imagine you're the examiner and look through your book and ask yourself is your journey to your final piece clear? Does every page link to your final piece? Is there a purpose for each page? Does it make sense? Have you practised every element in the final piece? Do you need to add anything - if so make a note and do it! See the example sketchbook videos on the google classroom for inspiration and ideas.		90 mins
2. Select a post-it in your sketchbook and complete the task set e.g. take photos, observational drawing, analysis of artworks, final piece plans.		90 mins
3. Presentation - Make sure that all work is stuck down and well presented with a title and put any loose sheets in the back of your book or throw them away.		30 mins
